Instructions

Before you begin

Before completing this application form, you should have read the program guidelines. Guidelines can be found at <https://www.chiefscientist.nsw.gov.au/stem-outreach/stem-grants/stem-student-competition-sponsorship-program>

You must submit an application between the published opening and closing dates. Applications received after the closing date and time will be deemed to be a late application. Incomplete or unsubmitted applications will not be considered.

Artificial Intelligence (AI) can assist in many aspects of the grant application process. However, it should be used to compliment, not replace human expertise and judgment. While the use of AI is not prohibited, applicants are advised to use it appropriately. Keep in mind that assessors are seeking authentic responses to the selection criteria and often recognise when AI tools have been used.

About the Grant

Program Details

The STEM Student Competition Sponsorship Program (Program) aims to support high-tech, high-impact research by NSW university students attending domestic and international research competitions, that align with the 20-Year NSW R&D Roadmap (the Roadmap), the NSW Industry Policy and the NSW Innovation Blueprint.

The Program supports goals and action areas under the NSW Innovation Blueprint, through leveraging innovation, developing talent, promoting diversity, equity and inclusion, and building students' understanding of commercialisation, deep tech and the broader innovation ecosystem.

Teams of university student researchers attend competitions to increase their skills in real-world applications; to improve collaboration with international colleagues; and to create interest and excitement about their fields with the community, industry partners and fellow students. Exposing students to competitions that address high impact problems also encourages them to consider graduate studies to pursue higher degrees and Honours programs in science and engineering.

This round of the Program will be considered on an open competitive basis to support NSW university students to attend domestic and international research competitions between June 2026 and December 2026.
